

The Office of Academic Technologies (OAT) federates the activities of twelve units working together to provide academic technology services that support the goals of Educating Illinois, help attract and retain great students and faculty, and enhance teaching, learning, research and creative activity, and service outreach.

One of the overarching Goals of OAT is to amplify the collective voice for academic technology needs in the Division of Academic Affairs.

